Mabel Center provides free and full legal representation for asylum-seekers with complex cases that existing legal services organizations are unable to accept due to the time commitment required. Many asylum-seekers in Boston are unable to find pro bono attorneys with the capacity to accept cases that involve unsettled precedent, or clients who have been detained, because these cases require immense time and resources. Mabel Center attorneys have developed systems to represent difficult cases successfully and efficiently, allowing us to take complex cases, and more of them.
