The Boston MetroList

Homeownership · https://community.womensmoneymatters.org/resources/the-boston-metrolist/

Link:

The Boston MetroList is an online platform that provides access to various data about properties in the Greater Boston area. It aims to enhance transparency and inform the public about housing and real estate trends. Users can explore data related to property values, ownership, zoning, and neighborhood demographics. The platform supports decision-making for homebuyers, policymakers, and community members by offering a comprehensive view of the local housing market. Additionally, it promotes equitable development and helps identify areas for investment and improvement.